Glossary

Terms are underlined the first time they appear in the text of this booklet.
Some terms do not appear in the text.

Alumnus/a - Someone who graduated from a school or college; alumni is the plural form.

Cumulative GPA - An average of all of the grades a student has earned in every semester.

Disburse/disbursed - To pay out money from a fund; "My scholarships have to disburse in order for my student bill to be paid."

Faculty - Educators.

Example: Professors and instructors

Federal aid - Money from the United States government to help pay for school.

Example: Money you get from filing the FAFSA.

Fees - Everything you are charged that excludes tuition, housing, and meal plans.

Examples: Facilities, Library, Media, Network & Data Systems, Student Activity, Student Health, and Transit Fees.

Financial aid - An award based on financial need that helps pay for college.

It could be in the form of a grant, loan, or work-study program.

Good academic standing - Having above a 2.0 cumulative GPA; not on probation or suspension.

Grace period - A period of time that occurs after a deadline; during this time you do not receive a late fee or consequence.

It's "extra time" or an extension of a deadline.

Grant - Money awarded by the government or another organization to help pay for school.

It's usually based on financial need. It's money you don't have to pay back.

Example: Pell Grant

Interest - Additional money you pay for taking out a loan. Loans collect interest until you have paid them back in full.

Invoice - A bill or receipt the University provides to list what classes and fees you are paying for and how much money is owed.

Loans - Money that is borrowed from the government or a private company to help pay for school.

Professor - A teacher of the highest rank in a college or university; have a Ph.D.

Glossary cont'd

Promissory Note - A document you sign saying you promise to pay back your loan.

Renewal criteria - Requirements that you must meet to be able to receive your scholarship for another school year.
Examples of criteria: 2.0 GPA, good academic standing, etc.

SAI - Student Aid Index; this is an index number used to determine your eligibility for how much federal student aid you could receive if you attended the school.

Scholarship - Money awarded by a university or organization based on things like good grades, showing leadership qualities, or other criteria.
It's money you don't have to pay back.
Example: UA departmental or degree-specific funding

Staff - People who work for the UA in administrative and support positions.
Example: advisors, financial aid personnel, deans

State funds - Money that you get from the state government to help pay for school.
Example: Arkansas Academic Challenge Scholarship "The Lottery Scholarship"

Subsidized Loans - Loans that are based on financial need. The government pays for the interest this loan collects while you are still in school.
After you graduate, then you start paying interest.
These loans should be your first choice.

Tuition - The money you pay the university for your classes; you pay for the number of credits you are enrolled in; tuition rates vary depending on what college you are in, what program you are in, and whether your class is online or in-person.

Unsubsidized Loans - Loans that are not based on financial need.
Interest starts to accrue while you are in college.

Verification - Something is missing from your FAFSA so it is selected for review. Students must complete additional steps to make sure their FAFSA information is correct and then receive financial aid.
(Sometimes students are picked at random to complete this process.)

Work-study - Money you can earn by working on-campus; your earnings are deposited to your personal bank account and can be used for anything you want.
You must apply for a job, get hired, and clock hours before receiving any work-study funds.
Work-study eligibility is based on financial need.

Scholarship Disbursal

Don't freak out when scholarships don't go through immediately. They start disbursing the week before classes start, but they can often take a few weeks to go through. There is a grace period of a month after your student invoice says it's due. This time is to allow scholarships to process.

FAFSA Free Application for Federal Student Aid

Who can file as independent?

In order to file your FAFSA as an independent,
you must be:

- born before Jan. 1, 2001
- married
- a graduate or professional student
- a veteran
- a member of the armed forces
- an orphan
- a ward of the court
- someone with legal dependents other than a spouse
- an emancipated minor
- someone who is homeless or at risk of becoming homeless

<https://studentaid.gov/help-center/answers/article/independent-student>

Reasons for FAFSA verification:

You may be randomly selected to complete additional steps in order for your FAFSA to go through.

Your FAFSA application could be missing something, so they need more information.

To complete FAFSA verification:

Check your UAConnect account under the "Notifications" tile.

Under "To-Do's" the additional paperwork
you need to complete will be listed.

This paperwork will need to be returned to the financial aid office.

Federal Loans

If you apply for financial aid (FAFSA), you may be offered loans as part of your financial aid offer.

A loan is money you borrow and must pay back with interest.

There are two types of Federal Direct Loans available:

Direct Subsidized Loans are loans made to eligible undergraduate students who demonstrate financial need to help cover the costs of higher education at a college or career school.

Direct Unsubsidized Loans are loans made to eligible undergraduate, graduate, and professional students, but eligibility is not based on financial need.

If you qualify based on your FAFSA, the loans will appear on your UAConnect account. You will click the "Financial Aid" tile and then "Accept/Decline Awards" to view them.

You can adjust the amount of the loan you take out.

Always take subsidized loans first.

When you accept federal loans, you must complete entrance counseling on the FAFSA website that explains more about the responsibilities of taking out a loan.

You will also have to sign a Master Promissory Note. This is a legal document in which you promise to repay your loan(s) and any accrued interest and fees to the U.S. Department of Education. It also explains the terms and conditions of your loan(s).

Federal Work-Study

Work-study is a federal program that offers eligible students part-time on-campus job opportunities. Students can work up to 20 hours per week and earn a paycheck twice per month up to the yearly awarded amount.

Work-study awards are part of your FAFSA.

You can check your Student Aid Report at studentaid.gov to see if you are eligible, or look on your UAConnect account by going to the "Financial Aid" tile and clicking on "Accept/Decline Awards."

If you are awarded, you can look for work-study jobs by going to jobs.uark.edu.

You must apply for a job, get hired, and clock hours in order to receive your work-study award.

All UA job listings

You can also still apply to any non-work-study campus jobs:

<https://hr.uark.edu/apply-now/index.php>

When you get hired, tell your supervisor that you are eligible for work-study. This will "save them money" because your job can be federally funded.

This will have no effect on you or how you are paid.

What happens if I am put on academic probation or suspension?

If you fall below a 2.0 cumulative GPA, you will be put on academic probation. You will have one semester to increase your cumulative GPA to at least a 2.0.

Academic suspension means you are unable to enroll for one major semester.

Important information to know if this happens:

Students who sit out for one major (fall or spring) semester after the term of the suspension may apply for readmission to the University.

A student who does not earn credit from another institution may be readmitted on academic probation following suspension.

A student who earns credit from another institution(s) during or after the suspension must apply to the University for admission as a transfer student and, if readmitted, will be on academic probation following suspension.

A student readmitted on probation after suspension must make a semester grade-point average of at least 2.0 for each semester, (fall, spring, or summer) until he or she is removed from probation. Failure to do so will result in academic dismissal.

If I get put on academic probation what happens to my....?

FAFSA - Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) is required to be eligible for FAFSA funds.

This means you must earn at least a 2.0 GPA and complete and pass 67% of the classes you started each semester.

If you do not meet SAP, you can:

- bring up your cumulative GPA to at least a 2.0, or
- ask for an exception, or "appeal" the loss of eligibility.

To appeal for your FAFSA funding, you must explain why things went wrong and what has now changed in your situation that will improve your academic performance. You must also complete and submit the SAP Appeal Form.

<https://finaid.uark.edu/resources/documents/2023-sap-appeal-form.pdf>

UA Scholarships - For the most part, if you lose a UA scholarship, you will not be able to get it again.

However, if scholarship loss was due to an extenuating circumstance or medical emergency, you may appeal to the Scholarship Review Committee. You will need to provide proof (e.g. medical records, proof of loss of employment).

Appeals are granted only in extreme circumstances beyond the student's control. You must file your appeal before your grades go back up to the required GPA.

Please email soappeal@uark.edu for instructions regarding the appeal process.

Arkansas Challenge Scholarship - If you are unable to meet the requirements to keep the Challenge, you will need to take the next school year to increase your GPA to at least a 2.5 and then reapply. You will be awarded as a non-traditional student if funding is still available.
